

The Healthy Ears - Better Hearing, Better Listening Program

This program provides free comprehensive ear health and hearing tests.

This service screens children and youth, and provides information about treatment and management of ear and hearing health.

The program supports Indigenous children and young adults from 0 - 21 years old in Dubbo and surrounding communities.

If you are concerned about your child's hearing, please discuss with your doctor or call Marathon Health.

For further information contact:

Monica Johnson

Phone: 0408 688 195 or 6826 5200

Email:

monica.johnson@marathonhealth.com.au

These services are supported by funding from the Australian Government Department of Health under the Healthy Ears - Better Hearing, Better Listening Program.

ABOUT MARATHON HEALTH

Marathon Health strives to achieve equity in access and quality of health and wellbeing for regional, rural and remote communities. At the core of achieving this is a commitment to collaborate with community members, service providers and policy makers to design customised and responsive services, drawing on the strengths of all involved to optimise the effective and efficient delivery of health and wellness services.

Marathon Health's workforce has been living and working in regional NSW for over 20 years. We have learned to work closely with existing services across the spectrum of social determinants of health and seek to augment and integrate rather than compete or duplicate.

Marathon Health is proud to enable and deliver culturally accessible health services for our Aboriginal and Torres Strait Islander communities.

The breadth of our expertise covers a range of health, social and community services which are the fabric of a strong, sustainable, progressive and holistically well society:

- Integrated and coordinated service delivery across providers
- Allied health including audiologists, dietitians, occupational therapists, psychologists, speech pathologists
- Chronic disease education, screening, prevention and management
- Mental health
 - Youth and adolescent (including four head-space centres)
 - Mild to moderate
 - Severe and persistent
- Childhood development early intervention
- Aboriginal family wellbeing
- Support and advocacy for people with disabilities
- After Hours support services including GP clinics
- Rural outreach specialist and allied health professional services
- Aged Care support and Integration with primary health care.

www.marathonhealth.com.au